AUCTIONEERS AND APPRAISERS

MUSEUM AND NON-PROFIT SERVICES

Overview

About Pook & Pook

- Founded by successful antique dealers Ronald and Debra Pook in 1984
- First auction house outside of New York to break the $1 million mark on a single item
- The 1999 William Koch sale was the largest on-site, one-day auction in industry history
- Sold the Smithsonian Museum's Cigna Collection of Firefighting and Maritime Objects, 2010
- Co-founded the improved online auction platform Bidsquare.com in 2013 with five other leading auction houses
- Maintained an average sell rate of 97% for the past two decades
- Works closely with several non-profit institutions (see p. 2)

Location

- Located in historic Downingtown, PA along Philadelphia's Main Line
- The 6,000 square foot state-of-the-art gallery accommodates over 250 people

Security

- The offices and gallery are protected with an alarmed, motion sensitive security system
- Objects are stored in spaces designated by type, including a gun safe, jewelry safe, vertical art racks, and multiple museum quality, locking glass presentation cases
- Insurance covers all items in our possession for 100% of the mean estimate

Auctions

- Twelve or more auctions are held each year, including saleroom and online-only sales via Bidsquare.com and an appraiser determines which type of auction will yield the best price for your object(s)
- Items are reviewed by our specialists and accurately described with materials, location of origin (if known), age, measurements, and condition
- Lots have corresponding high-quality professional photographs with a zoom option on our website
- Bidders are informed of upcoming sales through email blasts, advertising in trade publications, social media, and our full-color catalog (when applicable)
- Items are available for online preview two weeks before an auction and gallery exhibition the week prior to an auction
- Interested bidders may participate through in-house, online, absentee, and phone bidding

Rates

- We offer complimentary preliminary appraisals for items to be consigned
- Reduced commission rates for non-profits as low as 0%
- Commission rates include insuring, cataloging, photographing, advertising, exhibiting, and often, transporting items

Additional Services

- Non-profit organizations also receive reduced rate formal appraisals, unlimited complimentary access to past catalogs and photographs, and free color advertising in our catalogs

MUSEUM AND NON-PROFIT SERVICES

Pook & Pook, Inc. offers over thirty years of experience, record setting auction results, competitive rates, and a dedication to superior service. The company has garnered consistently high prices for American and European decorative arts, fine art, firearms and militaria, jewelry, and many other categories of historic objects, antiques, and collectibles. Such prices are the result of many factors, but most notably stem from Pook & Pook, Inc.'s large and growing audience base, innovative, wide-reaching advertising strategies, and the company's commitment to its consignors.

Pook & Pook, Inc. reaches a worldwide clientele and has earned a reputation for successfully placing objects of monumental historic importance throughout the globe. The company also recognizes the necessary role museums and other non-profits play in public education, community outreach, and the preservation of America's material heritage. Over the past three decades, Pook & Pook, Inc. has created special programs to further these missions and raised millions of dollars for non-profit organizations across the country. Our services are regularly sought by large museums, such as the Smithsonian Museum of American History, the Henry Ford Museum, the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Reading Public Museum, Winterthur, and the Carnegie Museum of Art, in addition to smaller historical societies, heritage centers, historic sites, and educational institutions.

For consignment of any items, Pook & Pook, Inc. would like to extend to your organization a free informal evaluation of the material you are considering for deaccession and a commission rate as low as 0% on any material consigned to Pook & Pook, Inc. No additional fees would be charged to your institution for cataloging, photographing, advertising, or exhibiting your items. In addition, consignment transportation is often provided at no additional charge for non-profit organizations. All items for auction would be fully covered by our insurance from the moment we take possession of them, again, at no additional cost to you.

Pook & Pook, Inc. offers complete listings of items to be auctioned with accurate descriptions and estimates. Lots have a corresponding professional photograph with a zoom feature on our easy-to-navigate website as well as on the online auction platform Bidsquare.com. Pook & Pook, Inc. maintains a rapidly expanding network of over 42,000 customers located across the United States and abroad and has access to Bidsquare.com's active bidder list, over 100,000 strong and growing. All lots are marketed on local and international platforms.

THE INTERIOR OF THE GALLERY DURING PREVIEW IS STUNNING. OUR EXPERT EXHIBITION DESIGNERS SPEND WEEKS PREPARING THE GALLERY FOR EACH AUCTION MAKING SURE ALL ITEMS ARE CLEANED, CLEARLY LABELED, AND NEATLY DISPLAYED. DURING PREVIEW, POOK & POOK'S KNOWLEDGEABLE STAFF IS ON HAND AT ALL TIMES TO ASSIST CUSTOMERS.

Pook & Pook has an extensive Internet following with email announcements delivered to hundreds of thousands of prospective buyers for every auction. In addition to extensive marketing in trade and local papers, magazines, online advertisements, press release listings, and social media postings, the company offers both an online preview and an in-house public exhibition.

Buyers bid in-house, by telephone, through absentee bidding, and through live online bidding. The greatest monetary worth for each item is achieved because clients have multiple bidding options. Internet bidding and online-only sales take place directly through Bidsquare.com and have been highly successful due to the platform's wide-reaching client base as well as the ease of registration and bidding. As a co-founder of Bidsquare.com, Pook & Pook, Inc. has input in the platform's layout and features, granting the company the power to best accommodate the needs of its clients. Sales are regularly well-followed and prices realized often meet or exceed their high estimates. Pook & Pook, Inc. averages 97% of items sold every year for the past decade.

THE GALLERY IS PACKED DURING POOK & POOK'S LIVE SALESROOM AUCTIONS. THESE EXCITING EVENTS KICK OFF A WEEK BEFORE THE AUCTION WITH SPECIAL WEEKEND PREVIEW. THE EXHIBITION OFTEN CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE WEEK AND ENDS WITH A CATERED RECEPTION IMMEDIATELY BEFORE THE START OF THE AUCTION.

Please see the end of this document to find photographs and prices realized for a selection of categories in which the company has achieved exceptional results.

In addition to offering a commission rate as low as 0% on consignments from museums and other non-profit institutions, Pook & Pook, Inc. offers several other free services year round. Informal appraisal services are available at no charge for items you are considering deaccessioning and at reduced rates for tax, insurance, and inventory appraisals. Pook & Pook, Inc.'s catalogs and photographs from past auctions are a valuable research tool and are free to any non-profit organization who requests them. Pook & Pook, Inc. also offers free advertising in our catalogs for non-profit groups. These full color ads are an excellent way for organizations to promote their events and exhibitions. This program has become very popular and we now have over fifty participating organizations.

Conveniently located near Philadelphia, New York, and Washington, D.C., Pook & Pook, Inc. is easily accessible. The company has expert appraisers ready to assist in all areas of arts and antiques. As your organization's needs change,

MANY PEOPLE WITH FIDUCIARY RESPONSIBILITIES HAVE VERY SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS THAT NECESSITATE INDIVIDUAL APPROACHES. WHETHER THIS ENTAILS A THOROUGH APPRAISAL FOR THE IRS OR A LARGE FINANCIAL ADVANCE IN ANTICIPATION OF AUCTION PROCEEDS, POOK & POOK IS CAPABLE OF RESPONDING QUICKLY. WE HAVE CONSISTENTLY AND CREATIVELY WORKED SIDE BY SIDE WITH MUSEUM OFFICERS TO ATTEND TO ALL DETAILS OF DISPERSAL OF DEACCESSIONED MATERIAL.

ALWAYS LOOKING FOR NEW WAYS TO GENERATE INTEREST, POOK & POOK OWNERS, RONALD AND DEBRA POOK, PROMOTED THE SMITHSONIAN'S COLLECTION OF FIREFIGHTING AND MARITIME OBJECTS AUCTION BY ASKING THE LOCAL FIRE DEPARTMENT TO PARK THEIR 1949 FIRE ENGINE AS AN ADVERTISEMENT IN FRONT OF THE GALLERY. IT WORKED!

staff members are happy to help you evaluate these changes and offer you the best professional services to help you achieve your goals.

Thank you for considering Pook & Pook, Inc. for your future auction and appraisal needs. If you would like more information about non-profit services, please do not hesitate to ask. All items and property submitted under this service will be held in the strictest confidence. You may contact us at any time to set up a convenient personal consultation.

SPECIALISTS

Ronald O. Pook

Mr. Ronald Pook founded Pook & Pook, Inc. in 1984 along with his wife, Debra. Engaged in the business of appraising antiques and fine art for over forty years, Ron is a licensed auctioneer in the state of Pennsylvania and specializes in appraising American, English, and Continental 17th, 18th, and 19th century furniture, pottery, and porcelains. Besides his love for antiques, Ron is a passionate organic farmer, a grandfather to nineteen, and a great-grandfather to two.

James M. Pook

James M. Pook is a Vice President of Pook & Pook, Inc. He specializes in 18th and 19th century American furniture, fine art, folk art, and Oriental carpets. Literally born in the Pook & Pook, Inc. offices, James has grown up in the antiques and auction world. After attending Colby College where he studied economics, James became involved in the business aspect of antiques and by 2002 he was appraising. James is a licensed auctioneer in the state of Pennsylvania. Off the podium, James enjoys playing squash and softball, as well as spending time with his wife and five children.

Jamie A. Shearer

Mr. Jamie A. Shearer is Vice President of Pook & Pook, Inc. He has a wide array of appraisal experience with areas of specialization in American furniture, textiles, ceramics, and other decorative arts, including antique toys. As a United States Navy veteran, his service to the country laid the groundwork for his knowledge in the field of antique firearms, bladed weapons, and militaria. Jamie started collecting baseball cards at a young age, which led to early sporting objects, then to candy containers, toys, Pennsylvania country furniture, and onward to early American tin, stoneware, and redware. He has been engaged in the antique business since 1980, cataloging and appraising with auction houses since 1994, and is now a licensed auctioneer in the state of Pennsylvania. He is a member of the Pennsylvania Auctioneers Association, National Auctioneers Association, the Historical Society of the Cocalico Valley, and the National Fishing Lure Collectors Club, just to name a few.

Kary A. Pardy

Kary Pardy is an Assistant Appraiser and museum liaison at Pook & Pook, Inc. After studying European History at Hamilton College, Kary earned an MA in Public History and Material Culture Research from the University of South Carolina. Her research includes studies of Medieval European, military, and American maritime history. After positions with McKissick Museum, the Higgins Armory, the South Carolina Railroad Museum, and South Street Seaport, she gained appraisal and cataloging experience at Wooten and Wooten Auctioneers in Camden, South Carolina. Kary specializes in antique books, maps, works on paper, militaria, metals, and American currency.
